What is this product?

Type: Units of Amundi CAC Transition Climat UCITS ETF, a UCITS (Undertaking for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities), established in the form of an FCP.

Term: The product has a duration of 99 years. The Management Company may dissolve the product by means of liquidation or merger with another product in accordance with legal requirements.

AMF Classification ("Autorité des Marchés Financiers"): French shares

Objectives: By subscribing to Amundi CAC Transition Climat UCITS ETF, you are investing in a passively managed UCITS whose objective is to replicate as closely as possible the performance of the CAC Transition Climat NR Index (the "Index"), regardless of whether it experiences a positive or negative development. The maximum tracking error objective between the growth of the net asset value of the Fund and that of the Index is indicated in the Fund's prospectus. The Index, net dividends reinvested (dividends, net of tax, paid by the equities in the index are included in the index calculation), denominated in euro, is calculated and published by the index provider Euronext. The objective of the Index is to reflect the performance of SBF 120 Index companies (the "Parent Index") that have defined target levels for reducing their greenhouse gas ("GHG") emissions. These levels must be approved in accordance with the objective of limiting the temperature rise to a level of 1.5°C in line with the Paris Climate Agreement and as validated by the Science Based Targets initiative ("SBTi"). The Science Based Targets initiative encourages companies to set GHG reduction targets to limit global temperatures to below 2°C, or even below 1.5°C, above pre-industrial levels, in line with the recommendations of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC). The Index's characteristics are as follows: a) An investment universe identical to that of the SBF 120 index, made up of the 120 largest and most liquid companies listed on Euronext Paris. b) Companies subject to high or severe ESG controversy are excluded from this universe, as are those identified as being in violation of the United Nations Global Compact guidelines. c) Within the limits of the thresholds explained in the Index methodology, companies not compatible with a short/medium term temperature reduction trajectory of 1.5°C, according to the SBTi, on the basis of their scope 1 + 2 emissions are excluded. d) Within the limits of the thresholds explained in the Index methodology, companies not aligned with a temperature reduction trajectory of 2°C on the basis of their scope 3 emissions are excluded. If less than 24 securities are excluded after the above filtering, then the remaining companies are ranked in descending order according to their scope 3 temperature score. The companies with the highest score are added to the index until at least 20% of companies in the Parent Index are excluded. e) Securities involved in controversial activities such as controversial weapons, civilian firearms, tobacco production or distribution, thermal coal or unconventional oil and gas exploitation are also not eligible for inclusion in the Index. The limits of this approach are described in the Fund's prospectus, citing risk factors such as sustainability risk. The ESG score of companies is calculated by an ESG rating agency based on raw data, models and estimates collected and calculated using proprietary methods. Due to the lack of uniformity and the uniqueness of each methodology, the information provided may be incomplete. More information on the composition and operating rules of the Index can be found in the prospectus and on euronext.com. The Index is available via Reuters (.CSBTN) and Bloomberg (CACSBT15). Exposure to the Index will be achieved through direct replication, primarily by investing directly in transferable securities and/or other eligible assets representing the components of the Index in a very similar proportion to how they appear in the Index. For investment and/or efficient portfolio management purposes, the Investment Manager may use derivative instruments to manage the entry and exit of capital and derivatives that relate to the Index or its components. In order to generate additional income to offset its costs, the Sub-fund may also enter into securities-lending transactions.

Intended retail investors: This product is intended for investors with an average amount of knowledge and some experience of investing in funds, who are seeking to increase the value of their investment over the recommended holding period and who are able to bear a loss of up to the full amount invested. The product is not open to residents of the United States of America/"U.S. Person" (the definition of "U.S. Person" is available on the Management Company's website www.amundi.com and/or in the prospectus).

Redemption and transaction: The Fund's units are listed and traded on one or more stock exchanges. Under normal circumstances, you can trade units during trading hours. Only authorised participants (e.g. selected financial institutions) can trade units directly with the Fund on the primary market. Further details are provided in the Fund's prospectus.

Distribution Policy: As this is a non-distributing unit class, investment income is reinvested.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

RISK INDICATOR

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movement in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions could impact our capacity to pay you.

Additional risks: Market liquidity risk could amplify the variation of product performances.
The use of complex products such as derivatives can lead to increased movement of securities in your portfolio.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Beside the risks included in the risk indicator, other risks may affect the Fund's performance. Please refer to the Amundi CAC Transition Climat UCITS ETF prospectus.

PERFORMANCE SCENARIOS

What happens if Amundi Asset Management is unable to pay out?

The product is a co-ownership of financial instruments and deposits separate from the Management Company. In the event of default by the Management Company, the assets of the product held by the depositary will not be affected. In the event of default by the depositary, the risk of financial loss to the product is mitigated due to the legal segregation of the depositary's assets from those of the product.

What are the costs?

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

COSTS OVER TIME

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, and how long you hold the product. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods.

We have assumed:

- in the first year you would get back the amount that you invested (0% annual return). For the other holding periods we have assumed the product performs as shown in the moderate scenario.

- EUR 10,000 invested.

* Secondary market: as the Fund is an ETF, investors who are not Authorised Participants will ordinarily only be able to buy or sell its shares on the secondary market. As a result, investors will pay brokerage charges and/or transaction charges on their transactions on the stock market. These brokerage charges and/or transaction charges are neither charged nor payable by the Fund or the Management Company, but by the investor's own intermediary. Furthermore, investors may also incur bid-ask spreads, i.e. the difference between the price a share may be sold at (ask price) and the price it may be bought at (bid price).

Primary market: Authorised Participants who trade directly with the Fund will pay the transaction costs applicable to its primary market.

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

Recommended holding period: 5 years. This period is based on our assessment of the risk and reward characteristics and costs of the Fund. This product is designed for medium-term investment; you should be prepared to stay invested for at least 5 years. You can redeem your investment at any time, or hold the investment longer.

Order schedule: Information on the order frequency can be found under "What is this product?". Please refer to the section "What are the costs?" for more information on the exit costs. A redemption cap mechanism (known as a "gate") may be implemented by the Management Company. How it would be operated is described in the Prospectus.

In the primary market, the management company may:

- Suspend the redemption of units, if exceptional circumstances so require, taking into account the interest of investors.
- Manage liquidity risks by (i) limiting the number of units redeemed for a short period of time, if redemption requests reach a predefined threshold beyond which these requests can no longer be executed in the interest of all investors ("Redemption Cap"), and (ii) applying anti-dilution levies to the Fund to offset or reduce portfolio restructuring costs for the remaining investors.

On the secondary market, investors will generally be able to sell their shares on the relevant stock exchange. Additional details can be found in the prospectus.

How can I complain?

If you have any complaints, you may:

- Mail Amundi Asset Management at 91-93 boulevard Pasteur, 75015 Paris, France
- E-mail to complaints@amundi.com

In the case of a complaint you must clearly indicate your contact details (name, address, phone number or email address) and provide a brief explanation of your complaint. More information is available on our website www.amundi.fr.

If you have a complaint about the person that advised you about this product, or who sold it to you, they will tell you where to complain.
